

DIA-LOGUE: [THEORY] & [PRACTICE]

A TWO-WAY BRIDGE SYMPOSIUM

April 25, 2025

10:00 AM - 12:00 PM (ET)

The symposium aims to bridge the increasing gap between research and professional practice, particularly in Architecture & Health, Building Technology, History & Theory, and Landscape Architecture. Our goal is to create a space where graduate students, faculty, and practitioners can discuss how academic knowledge translates into practical application.

Ajla Akšamija

Professor, Distinguished Chair for Resilient Places, University of Utah

Peggy Deamer

Professor Emerita, Yale University

Rebecca Popowsky

Wilks Family Director, University of Pennsylvania & Research Associate, OLIN

Deborah Wingler

Global Practice Director, Applied Research and Partner, HKS

Register Here

In-person and virtual options available for free!

Contact dbesymposium@clemson.edu if you have any questions,

Organizer:

Design and the Built Environment (DBE) PhD Program

School of Architecture

College of Architecture, Art and Construction, Clemson University